Shortlist announced for 2020 Medical Humanities Awards

In November 2020

The Medical Humanities Awards 2020 have been launched to celebrate the best work in medical humanities. This year’s shortlist features an exciting range of nominees, with a diverse range of topics covered.

The shortlist includes categories such as ‘The Shape of Medicine’, ‘The Future of Care’, and ‘The Power of Words’. Each nominee has been carefully chosen by a panel of experts, including leading academics and practitioners in the field.

Rewarding excellence

The Medical Humanities Awards celebrate the best work in medical humanities, which is the study of the human condition, its historical development, and its impact on society. This year’s shortlist features a diverse range of nominees, with topics ranging from infectious diseases to mental health.

In order to be eligible, applicants must have created work that has been published or exhibited in 2020. Each nominee has been carefully chosen by a panel of experts, including leading academics and practitioners in the field.

Creative range

The nominees cover a wide range of topics, including the history of medicine, the impact of technology on healthcare, and the role of art in medical settings.

These works demonstrate the power of medical humanities in illuminating the human experience and providing new insights.

Music and rhythm

The shortlist features a diverse range of nominees, including a range of music and rhythm. These works demonstrate the power of medical humanities in illuminating the human experience and providing new insights.

The nominees cover a wide range of topics, including the history of medicine, the impact of technology on healthcare, and the role of art in medical settings.

Weight of expectation

In November 2020

The nominees cover a wide range of topics, including the history of medicine, the impact of technology on healthcare, and the role of art in medical settings.

These works demonstrate the power of medical humanities in illuminating the human experience and providing new insights.

The 2020 Medical Humanities Awards shortlist in full

Bioshine
- "Life, Death, and the Great Beyond: Biographies and Reflections on a Great Transformation"
- "Infection: A History of Disease and Humanity"
- "The Healing Power of Music"

Bioshine International
- "Making Sense of the World: A Journey Through Science"
- "The Power of Words: A Legacy of Oral Traditions"
- "The Future of Care: A Vision for the 21st Century"

Bioshine Community
- "The Shape of Medicine: A Journey Through Time"
- "The Future of Care: A Vision for the 21st Century"
- "The Power of Words: A Legacy of Oral Traditions"

Bioshine Award Winner
- "Outstanding Contribution to Medical Humanities"
- "Outstanding Achievement in Medical Humanities"
- "Outstanding Research in Medical Humanities"

The nominees cover a wide range of topics, including the history of medicine, the impact of technology on healthcare, and the role of art in medical settings.

These works demonstrate the power of medical humanities in illuminating the human experience and providing new insights.